

THE DAILY SUMMIT

News and Happenings at the 2010 NAED National Electrical Leadership Summit

Tuesday, May 18, 2010

Booth sessions top Tuesday's agenda

Almost a full day of Strategic Planning Booth Sessions are on tap for Tuesday.

In a series of 30-minute appointments, you and your trading partners can:

- ◆ Understand each other's goals.
- ◆ Share market knowledge.
- ◆ Capitalize on each other's insights.

See a Strategic Framework Discussion Guide at <http://www.naed.org/meetings/national/pdf/StrategicPlanningGuideSingle.pdf>. Includes networking lunch. 8 am – 3:30 pm, River Exhibition Hall, Level 1. Badge required.

Go-Light Guru spreads passion for packing lighter at spouse/guest workshop

"He [or she] who would travel happily must travel light," says Doug Dymont, "The Go-Light Guru" of onebag.com.

In his session, "Tackling Today's Travel: On the Road without the Load!" he'll offer five compelling reasons to travel light: security, economy, mobility, serenity and ecology.

Before

After

The talk carries a separate fee of $30.

Didn't already sign up?

Check with the registration desk and see if they can squeeze in one more.

9 – 11 am, Michigan, Level 2

Awards Banquet celebrates NAED Education & Research Foundation's 40th

Awards honor outstanding contributors in a variety of areas.

This year the NAED Education & Research Foundation celebrates 40 years of service at the NAED Awards Banquet, starting with the Foundation Legacy Awards.

The awards honor 10 of the most influential people in the Foundation's history.

"It's because of the vision of these individuals that the Foundation exists as it does today—offering the best-in-class industry-specific training you can't find anywhere else," says Michelle McNamara, NAED vice president and executive director of the Foundation.

Legacy Award Honorees are:

George M. Adams, Jr.;
Edward F. Anixter (deceased), award accepted by son, Steve Anixter; Bill Elliott; Arthur Griswold; Robert Lemman; Art Loeb (deceased), award accepted by son, Charles (Skip) Loeb; James B. Newton, Sr., award accepted by son, Jim Newton; Walter W. Norton, Sr.; Thomas B. Schmid (deceased), award accepted by son, Dick Schmid; and Charles "Chuck" Steiner.

Tonight's event will also bestow NAED Achievement Awards on individuals and companies that have been invaluable contributors to the electrical industry and our association.

The honorees are:

J. Michael "Mike" Barker, Arthur W. Hooper Achievement Award; Tammy Miller, NAED Distributor Distinguished Service Award; Phil Barrios, NAED Associate Service Award; and Eaton Corporation, NAED Industry Award of Merit.

NAED's Honorary Life Awards recognize retiring distributors and manufacturers who have made exceptional contributions to the channel during their careers.

This year we recognize William Genne, Tom Latanision, John McBride and Charles "Chuck" Steiner.

Be sure to congratulate the honorees as you see them during the conference. Their contributions to our association and our industry have set us on a path to a better future.

Pick up your tickets at the NAED Registration Desk before noon. 6-10pm, Chicago Ballroom, level 4

Blooze Brothers to rock Awards Banquet

In the immortal words of Jake and Elwood, "We're on a mission . . ." to rock the house at the Awards Banquet—and make your last night in Sweet Home Chicago one you'll never forget.

The Blooze Brothers, Chicago's top show band, features a smoking hot horn section, vocalist Sheila Pepple ("America's Got Talent") and The Chicago Cop Dancers.

KLEIN TOOLS®

Designed by Electricians for Electricians

*Innovative Features...
Superior Value!*

Test & Measurement Line

www.kleintools.com

See you next year!

Note new date and place:

The Hilton San Diego Bayfront

April 30 – May 3, 2011